

HOW TO SEARCH, BROWSE & BUY WITH TRADE PORSCHE

There are two ways to search, browse and buy with Trade Porsche, firstly as a non registered user and secondly as a registered user. Both are totally free, but registering with the site will give you more facilities and features.

Non Registered Users

You can start searching for cars straightaway from our home page www.tradeporsche.com. In the middle of the screen you will see a large box labelled Find A Porsche. Simply select the model that you are after from the drop down box, then the series and then the derivative. The boxes are dynamic so if you selected Boxster as the model, the series choice will then be 986 or 987 and the derivatives available will be applicable to the series that you have chosen.

Once you have selected the derivative, the page will automatically refresh with all the key options that are/were available for the derivative that you have chosen. You can then click on any of the boxes that are must have options for you. Once you have done this you can use the rest of the drop down boxes if required to further narrow your search. When you are happy with your search criteria simply click the find button and all cars that meet your criteria will appear on a list as per the adjacent screen.

Once you have clicked on the register button you will be taken to the following screen. Here you need to fill in your details, remembering to click on Private under the seller type and clicking the box to say that you agree with our terms and conditions. Once you have done this please click on Register. Once you have done this you will be taken to a new screen which thanks you for your registration.

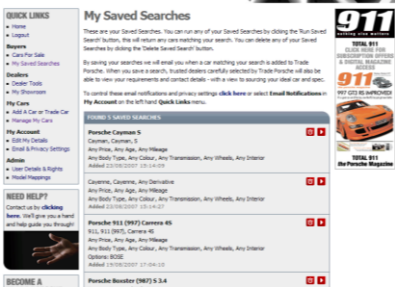

Trade Porsche will automatically send an email to your email address asking you to validate your account. Please click on the link within you email, which will open up a new window, where you will automatically be logged into Trade Porsche.

One of the key features of the site is the ability to save your search on the site. You can then opt to receive an email as soon as a car is added that matched your requirements, you can also opt to let Trade Porsche approved dealers see your ideal requirements and to contact you if they can help supply you with a car. You can have as many saved searches as you require. To save a search, click on the cars for sale button on the left of the page. As per non-registered users please use the drop down boxes to select your ideal criteria, and options etc.

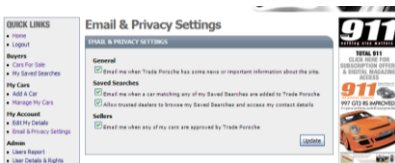

Once you have done this click the button labelled Save My Search your requirements will then be saved under your profile and you will be taken to the adjacent screen.

To see the results of your saved search please click on the Play icon, a full list of the cars that meet your requirements will appear. If no cars appear we will email you as soon as a matching car is added to the site. To delete your saved search simply click on the Rubbish Bin icon and it will be removed.

When you log in to the site, if you click the button labelled My Saved Searches, you can quickly access your searches and by pressing play the results.

If you require your saved searches and contact details will be visible to Trade Porsche dealers, Email notifications and privacy notifications can be turned on/off by clicking on the button labelled Email and Privacy Settings.

If you experience any problems or require any further help please do not hesitate to contact us by visiting Trade Porsche.
